LOCATION: United States (Remote)

START DATE: ASAP

Background

Driven by a passion to solve the climate crisis, The Sunrise Project is a team of experienced change-makers with a mission to scale social movements to drive the global transition beyond fossil fuels. We have developed a unique model of grant making and campaigning that supports networks of organizations to drive powerful change towards our mission.

The Sunrise Project Inc. is part of a global network of independent legal entities working towards a shared mission. With over 150 staff working across 19 countries, we make tens of millions in grants to hundreds of different organisations and support them to work together to shift the world beyond fossil fuels.

We have a dynamic and nimble organisational culture and are serious about supporting our people to thrive as we tackle the urgent climate challenge. We believe that a diversity of experiences and perspectives will help us build stronger strategies, teams and movements. We take the broadest possible view of diversity and encourage First Nations people, people of color, people living outside of cities, people living with disabilities, neurodiverse, and LGBTQIA+ people to apply. We are continually working on becoming a better workplace for everyone.

About the Role

Reporting directly to the board, this is a senior leadership role with overall responsibility for financial management, operations and compliance of Sunrise Inc. As such, it demands a combination of financial acumen, operational expertise, and strong people management skills.

The Director of Finance and Operations will be a member of the global operations leadership team for the broader Sunrise network supporting the Global Chief of Operations to deliver the network-wide operations strategy. You'll also be responsible for leading our global efforts to reduce our operational environmental footprint throughout the Sunrise network.

About You

You're an all-rounder and an exceptional people leader with experience managing finances, operations and compliance in the United States. You have a strong foundation in financial management, with a proven track record in budgeting, forecasting, and financial analysis. You're just as comfortable navigating spreadsheets as you are negotiating contracts or helping to manage organizational scaling in ways that avoid bureaucracy and encourage impact and innovation.

You're a team player who knows what it takes to create a vibrant and creative team culture that supports people to do their best work and enables teams to be more than the sum of their parts. You are used to working collaboratively with colleagues across different geographies and take satisfaction in supporting others to thrive.

You're a structured thinker, incredibly well organized and excited at the prospect of working for a growing, dynamic organization with a mission to scale social movements to drive the transition from fossil fuels to renewable energy.

You have a deep commitment to climate justice and have experience developing and implementing strategies to reduce environmental impact and promote equity and justice through operational systems.

Key Responsibilities
